

STYLEBEAT

INTERIOR DESIGN. STYLISH LIVING. HOME ACCESSORIES. GREAT RESOURCES.

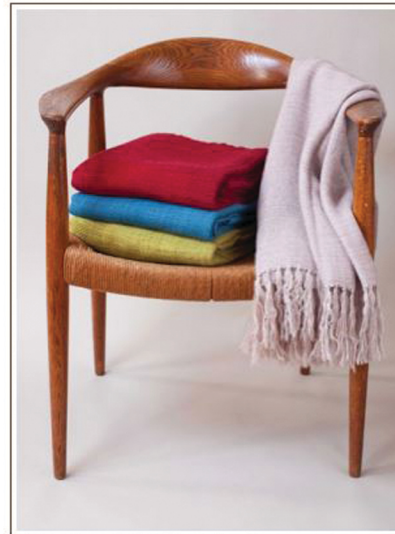

MONDAY, JANUARY 13, 2014

SARA BENGUR GOES BACK TO HER ROOTS WITH TURKISH-INSPIRED DECORATIVE HOME ACCESSORIES

Photos courtesy of Sara Bengur

Inspired by organic forms and materials, New York-based interior design Sara Bengur's new collection of decorative home accessories stems her interest in bringing the beauty of handmade products to her fresh, modern designs. Celebrating her love of ethnic craft as well as her Turkish heritage, the array of globally made goods, from soft throws to colorful plates, combines unique artisan talents with modern sophistication. The palette, ranging from earthy to rich colors, adds a bit of Bengur's artistic aesthetic home. Here are some of my favorite pieces from her collection.

Saturated color in Merino wool and Mohair, Dolcino throws woven in Italy

Set against a solid, colorful ground, oversized dots adorn the surface of the Bonjuk dinner plates.

Organic 100% cotton Hand-Woven Peshtamal Yazlik Towels with soft alternating stripes and long fringe. They get even softer with washing.

Eggplant is a color so well suited for this weave, especially when paired with yellow and cream.